Here's hoping that Sam will develop into a Dewey and shed renown on old Maysville, who in past years had worthy representatives in the persons of Grant, Nelson and other heroes. # Mercerized WAISTINGS!

Have you seen our window of beautiful waist patterns? Twenty-five different designs and not more than two of any pattern, while very few have even one duplicate. And yet our stock is by no means represented by the window display. You will find fully 100 different styles on our shelves. Can't we honestly say no metropolitan shop could offer broader assortment? If you're a Cincinnati shopper compare our stock of White Waistings with that of any shop in the Queen City—compare it not only as to quantity, but make the broader test of quality and price. You'll find in quantity we excel some Cincinnati shops, in quality we equal the best, in price we are invariably lower. Bombastic advertising is not in our code—the above are proved statements—they are truths, not boasts.

Details.

The yarns used in making these handsome waistings were mercerized before weaving to insure their lasting silkiness. There are Nette, mull, basket, oxford and damask weaves and the prices are 25c to $1½ by the yard and 50c to $4½ by the pattern of three yards. We needn't dwell on the popularity of White Waistings for autumn and winter. They are the most emphatic words in fashion's literature.

The Kentucky Democratic Campaign Committee has established a quarantine against Mr. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, and will prevent him from speaking in any part of the state. All invitations to Mr. BRYAN to speak in Kentucky have been recalled. The slight to Mr. BRYAN is considered nothing less than an open insult by his friends in this state.

GOV. BRADLEY'S CALL TO DUTY.

Chairman John C. Wood of the Republican Speakers' Bureau has received the following letter from Hon. Governor Bradley:

Louisville, Ky., October 24, 1903.

Hon. John C. Wood, Chairman, Speakers' Bureau—Sir: Had my health justified I would have spoken for the Republican party before this, and shall certainly speak as soon as able. The best interest of the state requires the election of the Republican ticket, and I trust that no man will be found who is not willing to do his duty.

I hope that no effort will be spared to register the vote in the cities and towns of the Commonwealth, as this is the foundation of success, and in the absence of a full and proper registration we cannot hope to win. Your friend,
 W. O. BRADLEY.

A dispatch from Frankfort says the cause of the transfer of CALER POWERS, sentenced to death, and JAMES B. HOWARD, sentenced to life imprisonment, alleged murderers of Senator WILLIAM GORREL, from Georgetown to Louisville, which has never been understood thoroughly, has come to light.

The Courier-Journal has been received by nearly every voter in Frankfort and Franklin county, through the mails, apparently sent out by the Democratic State Campaign Committee, with the story of the transfer being made to prevent liberation.

The current rumor is that the transfer was made for political capital. Several who received a copy of the paper expressed themselves as understanding why the paper was sent, and are of the opinion that the transfer was prearranged and The Courier-Journal had been engaged to distribute these extra copies to carry out the misleading story of the alleged attempt to liberate the two men.

B. J. Rwen, the star witness in the Jett-White trial, will deliver 150 lectures throughout the North and West.

James Burgess, a well-known and highly respected farmer, died at his home in Harrison county of typhoid fever.

The recent wreck on the C. and O. at Dover, in which a freight jumped the track, the engine turning over an embankment, cost the Railway Company about $1,000.

Former Governor W. O. Bradley will present to President Roosevelt a petition for the pardon of J. M. McKnight, the banker, now serving a term in the Federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

Johnson T. Garnett, claiming to represent a firm in Cincinnati, was arrested at Cincinnati on the charge of peddling without a license. He was fined $50 and costs. Garnett insisted on being placed in Jail, and declares he will take the case to the United States Court.

PLENTY OF IT.

Lots More Proof Like This, and It Is All From Maysville People.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it." If any city or town in the Union has sufficient proof on the following subject it is Maysville. Genuine merit is finding its reward in the hearty indorsement of local citizens. When people right here at home, friends and neighbors of our readers, give a statement like the following for publication it is proof convincing for the most skeptical. Read this testimony:

Mr. A. W. McClanahan of 119 West Second street says:

"The use in my case fully demonstrated the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered more or less from kidney trouble for twenty years, steadily becoming more persistent as time passed on. My attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at J. James Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets. The treatment so greatly benefited me that my only regret is that I did not know of this valuable remedy years ago, for had such been the case I would have been saved much suffering."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

"The Barber in Japan" is the title of an article in Sunday's Courier-Journal. Does this refer to the present whereabouts of the long-lost "strolling barber," the Honorable GEORGE FRANKLIN WEAVER?

THE esteemed MAYSVILLE LEDGER is mistaken about Governor BECKHAM paying Kentucky's debt "with Uncle Sam's money," except in so far as Uncle Sam's signature gives the money its elegant paying power. The money was Kentucky's because Uncle Sam owed it to the state. The difficulty lay in inducing Uncle Sam to "cough."—Cynthiana Democrat.

Well, dad gash it, did Uncle Sam owe that Calhoun fellow them $71,000? Or—How old is ANN, anyhow?

A case that is attracting attention in Kentucky financial circles, involving the payment of franchise taxes to a municipality by a State Bank, is to be argued in the United States Supreme Court this week. The title of the case is the Deposit Bank against the city of Frankfort. The city seeks to enforce the collection of some $6,000 franchise tax alleged to be due it from the Deposit Bank for the years 1893-4.

The Bank resisted this payment and in the Franklin Circuit Court the city was given judgment, which on appeal was affirmed by the Appellate Court. The case was then sent on appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

In the event the decision is favorable to the city of Frankfort, many more cases against Banks are to be instituted throughout the state, the present one being in the nature of a test.

A correspondent of The Louisville Herald "humps up his back up," charging that paper with an attempt to place such men as ex-Governor Bradley and ex-Governor Brown on a level with as high-minded, high-toned gentleman as Governor Beckham, a man that has stood by and for the common people; and The Herald promptly disclaims any such intention, citing a single instance in which there is a distance between their levels of $71,100.03, established by Governor Brown himself. He was handling the money of the taxpayers and collected $800,441.03 of war claims from the National Government at a total cost of 2 cents in postage. This was in 1892, when Governor Brown was a plain Democratic Governor, without guile and without trick to divert the money of the people from their possession. In those old-fashioned days that was considered right and Democratic. But in 1903 that high-minded and high-toned gentleman, Governor Beckham, handling the same sort of claim, collected $1,323,000.35, and it was estimated to the extent of $71,100.03. There is not only high-mindedness and high-tonedness for you, but also high-plethness. Mr. Beckham is away up high above Governor Brown's level—that is, if Mr. Beckham can be said to be on the level. The account can be presented in this form:

Cost to the state of collection of $800,441.03 by Gov. Brown $70,000.02
 Cost to state of collection of $1,323,000.35 by Gov. Beckham $71,100.03
 Difference in cost $1,100.03

It is hardly probable that Governor Brown could reach Governor Beckham's level in a life-time, even if he tried. It is still more improbable that he would try. Callonning was not considered Democratic in his day.

HAD HIS PICTURE TOOK!

The Fellow Who Got W. R. Varian's Sparkler Is "Sized Up."

It will be recalled that on the day of the Barnum-Bailey Show, Mr. William R. Varian of Fort Thomas was one of the many thousands who came to Maysville.

Will was coming back to his old home, and he wanted to "look his best," so he wore a handsome headlight in an immaculate shirt front.

Among other passengers on the C. and O. show ward bound were three industrious members of the Double-Acting Diamond Stealers' Union, and it was not long until one of these "pinched" Mr. Varian's sparkler.

Being cornered, he threw the jewel to a couple of pals who tumbled off the train and haven't been seen since.

The pincher was brought here and pinched by the Police, and after a preliminary examination was held to the Grand Jury, being now in Jail.

He gave the name of Thomas Lowery, but the initials in his hat, one of "Nopper's Best," are "T. H. L." and for aught that any one here knows his real name may be Tom Hava Look. He that as it may, Detectives Cal Crim and Kincaid came up last afternoon from Cincinnati to look him over.

The Detectives did about all the talking that was done—and if you ever heard a sure-enough Detective talk you're a good'un;—but Thomas was obedient to every request, and after Crim had applied the measurements of the Bertillon system to his head, ear, middle and little finger, his left forearm and his left foot, and Kincaid had examined his teeth and inquired his age, he was escorted to the official photographer and his phiz taken for the Rogues' Gallery.

After comparing notes, the Detectives expressed the opinion that Lowery—or whoever he is—is a product of Dayton, O. Lowery is a decent looking fellow, and if so inclined might become a useful citizen instead of filling a convict's cell.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. J. Wood & Son.

Stoop-Shoulder Months

One doesn't have to worry much about children getting round shouldered as long as they are out doors all the while. It is when they are inside, exercising less and bending over desks, that the injury is done. For this reason this is an especially timely season to put shoulder braces on the child that shows signs of stooping. It is folly to wait until the habit is fixed. We have the kind you should use, the ones universally conceded to be the best.

A MAN CAN'T swim in shackles.

It isn't a question of his winning a race, but a question of being able only to keep afloat. The man who is suffering from malnutrition is like the fettered swimmer. His stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased. It is not a question with him of winning in the race for business, but of simply keeping up under any circumstances. Whenever disease affects the stomach it is affecting also the blood and the health of every organ of the body. For blood is only food converted into nutrition and nutrition is the life of the body and every organ of it.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and enables the perfect nutrition of the body which means perfect health.

"For six long years I suffered with indigestion and my liver and kidneys, which baffled the best doctors in our country," writes E. L. Russell, Esq., of Woosley, Prince William Co., Va. "I suffered with my stomach and back for a long time, and after taking a 'cat-load' of medicine from three doctors I grew so bad I could hardly do a day's work. Would have died like Julius in the side, and blind spells. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used them, and am happy to say I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

MUST BE REPRESENTED

Great Opportunity Awaits Kentucky at World's Fair.

SPEECH OF PRESIDENT A. Y. FORD

Tells Delegates to State Commercial Convention Why This Commonwealth of All Others Should Answer to the Roll-Call of States at the Exposition.

No one speaks more eloquently on the development of Kentucky's products and resources than does Mr. A. Y. Ford, the President of the Kentucky Exhibit Association. Since his election to the place at the head of the organization which was formed to raise a fund for Kentucky's representation at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year—purely a labor of love with him, for it must be remembered there are no salaried commissioners—Mr. Ford has made many speeches along this line. The latest of these was delivered at the State Commercial Convention recently held in Louisville. It is our pleasure today to present the greater part of it to our readers, as follows:

The movement for a creditable representation of Kentucky at the great World's Fair, which is to mark the Centenary of the Purchase of the Louisiana Territory, appeals both to business interest and to patriotic sentiment.

It appeals to business interests, because no community more than Kentucky needs to have itself properly advertised to the world, not only for the correction of that false report into which it has been brought by persistent and long-continued misapprehension, but because, at this particular juncture in the material development of the country, it finds an unusual opportunity and a pressing necessity to demonstrate to the world of capital and of home-owners the superior advantages which it offers as an undeveloped State, in which all the essentials of profitable development are to be found.

It appeals to sentiment, because the Kentucky characteristic pride in the achievements of the founders of the Commonwealth can find in all the long, illustrious story nothing more fit to inspire it than the part which the men of this State have played in that marvelous national drama of expansion, of which the Louisiana Purchase was a part.

How could Kentucky forego her claim to a share in the glories of a nation at whose birth into the Union she stood sponsor, created a part of this household of liberty through her instrumentality, peopled largely by her sons, bound to her by the tenderest ties of blood and interest—all in the cause of the very richest of the jewels in her crown of Statehood.

But perhaps it is more in keeping with the spirit of an occasion like this to put sentiment to the rear and business considerations to the fore. We hold that Kentucky should be at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Because it has suffered incalculable injury from malicious misrepresentation; because it needs to be advertised to the world by something else besides its mountain fairs and its bitter politics; because it has been caricatured too long in the general ideal formed of it and deserves to be taken seriously. We like a joke all right, but we don't want it rubbed in too hard.

Because it is an undeveloped State, needing the good-will of investors and home-seekers and having that to offer them that will endure and repay investigation.

Because now is the time of times for putting ourselves right and keeping our selves right before the business world, while this tremendous tide of material development is at its flood and men are seeking on every hand for profitable fields of activity.

Because, through ignorance of our own resources or indifference to them, through lack of enterprise in presenting information about them to those who seek it, we have suffered ourselves to be outstripped as an industrial community by States that could not compare with us in natural advantages.

I know of no State that stands more in need of a protest in the name of truth than Kentucky. I know of no State that has been more persistently and unjustly misrepresented than Kentucky. I know of no State that has more simply endured such misrepresentation, recklessly giving fresh occasion for it and careless of its opportunities for displaying its better side.

I am not an apologist for that which is wrong with us, and there is much in present conditions for which we should frankly take shame to ourselves, but the very existence of such things but emphasizes the necessity that we should be up and doing in the cause of our own redemption, to the end that these early glories of the State of which we boast so much may not be dimmed and defaced or its future hampered by our doer. No community more than an undisciplined one should be so oversensitive to just criticism, but unchecked misrepresentation, long enough continued, makes reputation and it has made for us a reputation that has formed a barrier to the proper development of the State. It is a thing to be denied and rebuked with earnestness and dignity at every opportunity, not only as a matter of State pride but as a matter of State welfare.

In all the long roll-call of States not one important State will be missing, not one that can lay any claim to rank as an enterprising Commonwealth. Not one whose growth in wealth and population attests its energy and progressive spirit. There will be all the States that stand for progress, for enlightenment, for education, for leadership.

Shall Kentucky eliminate herself from such a company and say to the world that we not only repudiate the work our fathers did in the cause of national expansion, but that we do not care to be ranked among the enterprising States, that we are wedded to our idols and only want the busy world to stand out of our sunlight and let us alone with our mountain fairs, our political quarrels, our undeveloped wealth? That we don't want to be disturbed by the screech of factory whistles, that we don't want locomotives tearing our horses; that we don't want factories spreading soot over the landscape; that we'll keep our coal and our iron and our lead and zinc and our copper where they are, for we don't want anything to do with the world? What do we want with new population? It might complicate the political situation. What need have we for electric traction lines? We've got one or two and the old carry-all will do for a while longer with a new spoke or two and an extra wrap on the shaft, when the roads are not too bad.

Work to Be Done.
Men of Kentucky, that is the verdict that our indifference to this opportunity would have us give and justify. It is a verdict that would belittle the State and its people. We have a few mossbacks yet, for I doubt not there were even then bushes in the Garden of Eden. We have people left who are comfortable only when jogging along in the well-worn ruts.

A reasonable State pride is well enough, but a State pride that does not express itself in cumulative deeds is a hybrid thing, giving nothing but ridicule, and I fear that some of our good people State pride has ossified into a self-righteous placidity, with the conviction that what ever is all right and that any suggestion of improvement is a suggestion of disloyalty.

And yet there is work to be done. The Kentucky is an undeveloped State, with resources and whatever stands in the way of the development of those resources, whether it be unwise laws, whether it be our own ignorance of those resources, or whether it be indifference to them and ignorance and misconception abroad must be swept aside.

With the largest known area of coaling coal in the world, we produce only one-tenth of one per cent. of all the coke produced in the United States and, though we are now rapidly increasing our production, we yet rank only ninth as a coke producer, being in this respect outranked even by Massachusetts, which has no coaling coal at all, but must bring it all from Nova Scotia.

With practically the same coal area as West Virginia, we mine annually only one-fourth as much coal. With twice the coal area of Alabama, we mine annually only about one-half as much coal.

With splendid timber at our very doors, we send it North to be sawed into furniture and other articles and be shipped back to us.

With a splendid stock raising country about us, the annual product of our butchering and meat packing establishments is little more than one-tenth that of Indiana.

With vast deposits of iron ore, we are only just beginning to develop it, and have as yet not a single petroleum refinery in the State.

With a large part of our State so thickly populated as to invite the construction of interurban traction lines, we have only three such lines in operation, with a total of less than 40 miles of track, while our neighboring State of Indiana is already a net-work of interurban lines.

With twenty-eight counties wholly untouched by steam railways and others that are barely skirted by them, we built only 152 miles of railway from 1840 to 1900 and in 1901 only 100 miles, though the total now constructed in the South in the decade was 1,543 miles, and in the United States 4,450 miles.

With vast deposits of iron ore, we have declined as a producer of pig iron, and in 1900 produced only a pitiful 28,000 tons, against Alabama's more than 1,500,000 tons. Yet twenty-five years ago the pig iron production of the two States was about equal.

In iron and steel manufactures, though, our actual output has increased, our rank among the States has declined from seventh in 1870 to eleventh in 1880 and thirteenth in 1900, though we have improved our rank in the past ten years, having sunk only sixteenth in 1900. In spite of the natural resources and advantages that should make us a great iron and steel State, we are out-ranked by such States as Maryland, Indiana and New Jersey, which can not compare with us in such advantages.

With vast deposits of the finest clays, which are best used in the manufacture of the trade and which we are at last, especially in Eastern Kentucky, beginning to appreciate and to develop, we still rank no better than fourteenth as a producer of clay products. Our improvement is shown by the fact that we ranked only twenty-second in 1890.

After having been all this time in ignorance of the fact that we had valuable deposits of lead and zinc and thorium, we are just beginning the profitable development of these deposits—material that the commercial world needs and will pay a good price for.

With all the facilities and advantages that invite profitable manufacture we have only within the past few years begun to make real progress as a manufacturing State. In all the essentials of abundant and accessible raw materials, cheap and inexpensive fuel, splendid transportation facilities, nearness to great markets, being within a short distance of the center of population, cheap and intelligent labor, and favorable climate, we yet rank only eighteenth as a manufacturing State.

A Glorious Opportunity.
I cite these facts in no spirit of deprecation, but in support of my statement that Kentucky is an undeveloped State. I cite them in no spirit of discouragement, but rather to indicate the splendid field in which we have to labor and the possible results that wait only upon our will. I cite them in no spirit of disparagement to the State we love, but because I would see it make greater haste toward that goal of material prosperity that is so easily within its reach.

I do not believe that I overestimate either the value of this Exposition as a place for exploiting our State, or the necessity of thus advertising it. In this I am vindicated by the judgment of many Kentucky firms, which will spend thousands of dollars upon exhibits to advertise their own enterprise. I am vindicated also by the fact that every civilized nation on earth is preparing to be represented and that Florida seems likely to be the only one of all our own States and territories that is not alive to the opportunity. You will observe that I am counting Kentucky in the list of progressives, for Kentucky must be there. It is to be the largest World's Fair yet attempted, covering nearly twice the area of the Chicago World's Fair, and backed by nearly $20,000,000 of capital. Conditions lay upon Kentucky the most urgent injunction to make the most of the opportunity here afforded to put before the world her invitation to those men of brain and brawn and capital who build up the industries of a great State.

It is the purpose of the Kentucky Exhibit Association to extend that invitation in a practical way to demonstrate by striking displays and by every possible means of information the commercial value of Kentucky's resources and its advantages as a location for commercial and industrial enterprises.

Mr. C. C. Degman went to Manchester Wednesday evening to join his comrades of the Seventieth O. V. V. I., who had chartered a boat to carry them to their annual reunion which convened at Rome, O., on Thursday and Friday.
Mr. John T. Degman, who has been working on a ranch near Lovelock, Nevada, for nearly two years, was recently thrown by a vicious horse and so seriously hurt as to necessitate his removal to Reno for skillful treatment. His injuries though painful are not thought to be serious.

Much regret is expressed at the serious illness of Mr. L. W. Gallbraith. He is honored in this end of the county as having always been a friend to the Public School, and it was to his efforts, aided by thoughtful people of both parties, that the county tax was levied, thereby enabling Mason county to stand proud by her neighbor. The recent doing away with the law shows that others high in authority have different ideas from Mr. Gallbraith in regard to educating the poor.

Distinguishing Disease.

To cure Dyspepsia or indigestion it is no longer necessary to live on milk and toast. Starvation produces such weakness that the whole system becomes an easy prey to disease. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that one cares to eat, and is a never failing cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup; so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be unable to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At Henry W. Ray's, next door to Postoffice.

A Wife and Mother

Should not be exposed to the schemes of self-styled financiers. So think a great many men who, instead of leaving their insurance in bulk to their widows, have consigned with The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and adopted a course, which has eventuated in something like the plan of the late Archibald N. Waterhouse, of Philadelphia, who died suddenly last Friday and who left a wife and five children. In the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, the family residence under which these policies were issued were a capital that will be paid to the widow and children in cash and a regular income of $1000 for life, and if she is living at the end of that period she will receive $1000 in cash, making a total amount received by the widow of $14000 on which the widows are paid by Mr. Waterhouse amounting to only $27,492.90.

(From Philadelphia Record, Nov. 23, 1902.)

In writing for terms on similar policies, state what you would like to receive in cash at the end of the limited payment period, amount you would like your beneficiary to receive in event of your death, and give your age.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. "There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: 'My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger what over from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it, for it has helped me out many a time.'" Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son.
